Dearest Alice:

Gosh, what does a person write about when there are so many things to discuss? I would start from scratch but don't know where the beginning is. There is vacation time of mine that isn't totally clear & planned - for I wanted so much to spend it with you. There is the problem of running two cars that needs clearing up. There is a day in the future - not too distant I hope - when you and I will be married - but when? There is money to be saved between now & then so that we too might enjoy a nicely furnished home without filling ourselves with debt.

There is even the problem of deciding which town to reside in - altho I make my living in Milwaukee it's not a necessity to live here forever.

As far as the money you earn - it is ^{important} ~~an~~ factor ~~that~~ until we are married. I'll provide for you the best I can after marriage or I would have never asked you even to consider such a step.
So where do we start?

I have two weeks vacation
- sure me so I'll definitely take them the last two weeks in August. Labor day is the first Monday in Sept so that will give me an extra day of time. I'll be back to work Sept 4. I haven't a calendar with me at present so you figure the starting date.

If I start Sunday evening which I will then I'll be in Denver Sunday nite or Monday morning See you then for sure - O.K.?
That's one settled.

Alice, keep your car - I should have known better than have asked you to sell it. I'm accustomed to my Ford now and would miss it terrifically should I give it up but still will if yours fails you anytime My car is fully insured with Allstate Ins & covers anyone over 25 years of age driving it anytime so if you ever need it, say so.

The problem of saving money is one you & I will have to sit down & talk about. Since I've seen you last I've done a miserable job at it - car, ins, gas etc - you know what it is.

I'm sitting in the chuck wagon down at the lake front writing this letter & also watching people enjoying the good old summertime - wish you were sitting close to me - I need you.

Went to Madison last weekend - visited Ruth's son Bob on Wisconsin campus. What a beautiful layout that campus is - beautiful golf too. Would have stopped by a few beers with Joyce had I known her address in Madison.

Is she still there?

The weather has been anything but like summer consistently in Milwaukee - too much rain & cold temperatures - blankets every night.

- Be good & stay sweet

Love & kisses
