

FOR unto us a Child is BORN. unto us a Son is Given.

SEASON'S GREETINGS 2004

Our Annual New Year's greetings for 2003 from the Robb's went by the wayside when son Kevin, suffered a massive stroke January 8. It was then that we became reliant on email to inform friends and family of life at the Robb's. We apologize if we have missed you. If you have an email address, please let us know if you wish. Prayers from around the world are performing a miracle as we observe Kevin gradually regains physical mobility with speech coming back slowly. With his life in the balance for several days we are so grateful he can help us celebrate this Christmas with us.

Fortunately his life as a sculptor is slowly returning as he is designing and supervising welders. One of his new designs came to fruition this week as he and Perry got one tak welded together. The stroke paralyzed his right side, but with extensive therapy, he is now walking and moving the right arm. The right hand is now the focus of therapists. Kevin's web site is www.kevinrobb.com, email 3d@kevinrobb.com. Approximately two years ago, Kevin started us on another journey in life. He told us we needed to sort and dispose of collected junk/stuff as when we're gone, he'd just back up his pick up and load everything and head for the dump. What pack rats we were. The collected antiques from family became property of museums in Limon, CO and Evansville, MN (Grandma Pearl's home town.) We're now grateful those items are not going to be in a dump.

As of June 19 we now hang our hats at 10620 W. 45th Avenue in Wheat Ridge, CO 80033 in a one level duplex. Wonderful neighborhood Association and close to Kevin and family in Wheat Ridge and Craig in Englewood. The phone number remains the same—303-443-9158. EMAIL—alan@kevinrobb.com. Our fireplace mantel now has a special Craig Robb sculpture. In 2003, he had a one man show at Pirate Contemporary Gallery and Studio Aiolo in Denver. He was involved in the Loveland Sculpture in the Park in August; in September at Shidoni Gallery in Santa Fe invited him to show in their gallery. In December, he was part of the Pirate Exhibit at the Colorado Art Expo. Sales at all the above have kept him busy during his break at D. U. where he is assistant to the Sculpture Professor. He is designing new sculptures for one-man shows at the Shidoni and Pirate in April 2005. Check his web site: www.craigrobb.com. Zsolt aka Scott was delighted and relieved when his book "Living, Loving and other Heresies" hit the market place. Zsolt started writing "Zsolt Gossips" about his life experiences before and after he became ill about five years ago. Confined to a wheel chair, he now has many loving caring people whose 24/7 care is a blessing to him. Outings to concerts, galleries, restaurants are scheduled along with naps, massages, etc. As someone wrote, he continues "living" even from a sick bed. The editor has compared his writing to that of Walt Whitman. You can order his book by emailing—CSherer@mindspring.com or conundrumr@mindspring.com. The paperbacks are $15.95 and the hard covers are $23.95. (We also have a few copies available for sale.) Email—zsoltzsolt@juno.com

In January, Diane was suddenly immersed in keeping Kevin's sculpture business afloat. An inventory of sculptures in galleries in Santa Fe, Palm Desert, CA, Florida and Denver has made this possible. In September, Diane, Kevin and Kelsey flew to St. Paul to install one of his sculptures at a bank in Roseville, MN. A good trip for all. Needless to say her life has been a roller coaster ride in 2004.

Kelsey is a Sophomore at Wheat Ridge High School and enjoys being on the volleyball and basketball teams. She is on the varsity basketball team. Our schedule now does include her games. She has been a wonderful support for her Daddy in his recovery. AND, she has her learners permit!! Where have the years gone?

And, the old folks are thankful and happy to have an excellent health care plan and wonderful family and friends. Our move has just meant different distances to Sons of Norway activities that we enjoy in addition to fun Association activities.

We wish you a Happy Christmas and a Blessed New Year. We look forward to your cards, letters, or emails. We have found internet access a wonderful avenue of communication.

With our love and best wishes.

Barbara and Alan
